Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 1638

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1, 4-13 and 16, drawn to plant cells and plants transformed with nucleic acid molecules whose presence leads to increased plastidial ADP/ATP translocator activity, and methods for their production and use.

Group II, claim(s) 2-3 and 14-15, drawn to plant cells transformed with nucleic acid molecules encoding plastidial ADP/ATP translocators, and methods for their production.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The feature linking inventions I and II is plant transformation with nucleic acid molecules whose presence leads to increased plastidial ADP/ATP translocator activity. However, this feature is not special because it does not constitute an advance over the prior art. Neuhaus et al (1997) teach isolated nucleic acids encoding an ADP/ATP translocator and bacterial and yeast transformation therewith, and suggest plant transformation therewith to produce plants with increased yield and altered oil/carbohydrate production (see, e.g., page 73, Abstract; page 79, column 1, first full paragraph).

Art Unit: 1638

Furthermore, inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation and different functions.

The invention of Group I, a first product and methods of its use and production, requires a multitude of nucleic acid sequences such as enhancer elements or promoters and methods for homologous recombination, each not required by Group II. The invention of Group II, a second product and method of its production, requires nucleic acid sequences encoding plastidial ADP/ATP translocators, not required by Group I.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and fields of search, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
